

Form for the weekly update on the weblog group assignment

General information

General information
Class	Monday afternoon/Thursday morning/Thursday afternoon
Student names
Weblog title
Update about week (insert dates)
Date of submission to lecturer

Statistics

Please include a screenshot of your stats page. See the example below.

Content

Please write down in bullets how many blogs have been posted and by whom and how many reactions have been made to any comments and by whom. An example below is:

Blogs

- Will a grexit harm the EU? Jens Huisdorp
- The do's and don'ts of monetary policy. Annet Wielenga

Comments

- From the students-inside the group: 2 from Sven Smeets, 3 from Piet Langdorp
- From the students-outside the group: 6 from Bo Dam, 5 from Faye Lewis
- From external: 20

Reactions

- Will a grexit harm the EU? 10 comments and 5 reactions by Jens Huisdorp
- The do's and don'ts of monetary policy. 2 comments and 2 reactions by Annet Wielenga

Self-reflection of the team work	Grade (1-10)
TEAM WORK
Functioning as a team, getting things done together
Everybody contributes, there are no free-riders
Regularity of written blog posts
Regularity of comments made (also on other weblogs of other groups)
Promoting the weblog on any social media/among friends and family
QUALITY OF THE WORK
Quality of economic content and argumentation in the blog posts
Daring to tackle difficult subjects and providing daring insights in the blog posts
Stimulating a lively debate by giving constructive criticism, seeking clarification, asking relevant questions in the comments
Respect and politeness in the comments
Begin concise and to the point in the blog posts and comments
WEEKLY GRADE YOU WOULD GIVE YOURSELF

Self-reflection
We are especially pleased with..
Overall, we improved this in comparison to last week....
This needs further improvement...

Comments of the lecturer
Takes over self-assessment grade for assessment of group assignment	YES/NO
Argumentation

CC-BY Emmy Nelissen – Pierik